

The Debt-inator

Winning the War for Debt Freedom!

Debt is a financial cancer for middle income families. People find themselves working harder to make ends meet while debt and interest demand more each month. Most people have a desire to eliminate debt, but are unsure what the quickest way to get there. Because of this, people find themselves at the mercy of credit card companies, banks and lenders. As these companies tighten their grip on a families finance, many families retreat and become embarrassed. They feel trapped and do not know which way to turn. Operation Crusader and the Debt-inator can help.

“When we first started working with Bob and Operation Crusader, we were skeptical. We wanted to become debt free but did not think he could really tell us anything that we did not already know. We thought that we would give it a try and were thankful that we did. We are on a path to have everything paid off faster than we thought, saving us thousands of dollars in interest. Thank you Bob for all of the help.”

The Debt-inator provides:

- Coaching and Support
- Individual Planning
- A Customized Game Plan
- Monthly Training
- Accountability
- A Resource for Growth

Bankruptcy Attorneys and Credit Counseling Companies advertise heavily. They promise a quick and easy fix to a tough situation. However, what they do not tell you is the negative consequences to working with them. American's have grown accustom to quick and instant fixes. Operation Crusader works along side our clients helping them to eliminate debt quickly. Since we do it together, our clients gain understanding to the cause, as well as the different avenues, to get out of debt. Our passion is not just becoming debt free, but sustaining a debt free life.
